

Tools for Teaching with Informational Text

Saturday, January 30, 2010

presented by SAC-IRA and WLMA
Spokane Area Council of the International Reading Association

Washington Library Media Association

"Researchers have found that achievement improves when students have instruction with and opportunities to read informational text."

This hands-on workshop will begin with a brief overview of the types of informational text to consider for your classroom. The presenter will next model a number of strategies for reading aloud such text, and then engage participants in vocabulary and comprehension strategies appropriate for use with elementary and middle school students.

Who Should Attend

Elementary, Middle School Teachers

Details . . .

Saturday, January 30, 2010
Continental Breakfast provided
9:00 – 12:00 pm
Gonzaga University: Jundt Art Center and Museum Auditorium

Cost . . .

Free to current SAC IRA , WORD Members and students

$20 for teachers; $10 para-educators, retired teachers, substitute teachers, pre-service teachers. This includes the workshop and WORD membership. Payment accepted at the door.

RSVP . . .

Email: jennyarlt@comcast.net

About Your Presenter

Terrell Young is a professor of literacy education and Washington State University and serves as a member of the International Reading Association Board of Directors for 2009-2012. He is a former WORD President, and was inducted into the WORD Hall of Fame in 2007. He frequently presents on topics related to literature-based practices, nonfiction, English language learners, and the creative process of authors and illustrators.

Clock Hours Available!

Workshops can be combined to total more than 3 hours.

Next Workshop....

- Yoga for Kids: Oral Language and Literacy on the Move

Monday Feb 8th
4:30 – 6:30pm

- Attend five SAC IRA Workshops and be entered to win a NEW! Kindle 2